

Benefits Spam - 1/22/2018

The below snip was reported for falsely advertising health benefits to users. This is not associated with the university in any way. Please delete this message if you have received it.

From: Local Members [<mailto:members@districtpersonnel.com>]

Sent: Friday, January 19, 2018 1:35 PM

To: User, Joe <JoeUser@tntech.edu>

Subject: LTC Planning for Faculty and Staff

From: National Educational Services
To: All University Personnel

National Educational Services has arranged for all school employees to become informed about Long Term Care for yourself and family members. Nearly half of all people over the age of sixty five will require extended care. The cost of caring for a loved one can quickly exceed your salary and eat up your reserves.

If you're worried about caring for your parents or being a burden to your spouse or children, do not wait any longer.

Long Term Care Information Request

Take your life into your own hands and start planning early so your retirement plans do not fail you. The cost of Long Term care can potentially drain your retirement and cause a burden on your family and loved ones.

Let National Educational Services help you with Long Term Care so you are set for anything that comes your way.

National Educational Services - nesgroup.us

If you prefer not to receive these bulletins any more from NES: www.nesgroup.us/email.html

Please report any suspicious emails to abuse@tntech.edu