

Completed DocuSign Phishing - 7/6/2018

This simple and generic email is designed to grab your attention with its reference to DocuSign. This however is not the official DocuSign email that you might receive when a shared document is sent to you. You might also realize that the word "dropbox" is thrown in as well, which we know to be a separate service. This confusion should check those boxes that tell you to delete the message.

I used Dropbox to share some documents with you. Click REVIEW DOCUMENT to access the documents or click download.
