

Bank of America Spam - 7/6/2018

Regardless if you are a member of the aforementioned bank, you should know that bank emails always come from your bank. Any other sender should automatically be a red flag. Remember your security training – even if it appears to be true, always verify the sender and hover your mouse over the link to show the true destination. When in doubt, you can also type your bank's web address into your browser.

From: Suspicious User
Sent: Friday, July 6, 2018 6:19:05 PM
To: John B Student
Subject: Update Required!!

Update Required!!

Dear user,

For your safety some information on your account appears to be missing or incorrect. Please update your information promptly so that you can continue to enjoy all the benefits of your Account. If you don't update your information within 2 days, we'll limit and suspend your account. sorry for any inconvenience caused by our security measurements

Update Account

If you need help logging in, go to our Help Center by clicking the Help link located in the upper right-hand corner of any page. .

Sincerely,

Bank of America

Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help".

© 2018 Bank of America Corporation. All Rights Reserved.

Please report any suspicious emails to abuse@ntech.edu