

UN Spam - 9/1/2017

An email claiming to be from the Secretary General of the United Nations is out in a bogus amount of money in a fund you presumably have. Do not respond.

From: UNITED NATIONS [mailto:bshrenil1@yahoo.com]
Sent: Friday, September 01, 2017 7:45 AM
To: BHANSALI SHRENIL <bshrenil1@yahoo.com>
Subject: Your Prompt Response Is Required

UNITED NATIONS
OFFICE OF THE DEPUTY SECRETARY GENERAL
405 East 42nd Street,
New York, NY
United States of America.

Dear Sir/Madam

I am Amina J. Mohammed, the newly appointed Deputy Secretary General of the United Nations.

Having just resumed and in the course of duty, I have before me a forfeiture file which is a request from various agencies and banks for approval for a final forfeiture to various to various funds previously approved for payment.

Amongst these funds is the $1.2m accumulated interest on your fund. In the spirit of fair hearing and our effort to reposition the United Nations and her agencies for better service to humanity, I want to reconfirm that you agreed to forfeit same to us or reasons why you did not receive the above in spite of the allocation and approval.

Your prompt response will inform our decision to either approve for final forfeiture or recommend for renewed efforts to pay you through a more reliable agency or bank.

Yours faithfully,
Amina J. Mohammed
(UN Deputy Sec, Gen)

Please report any suspicious emails to abuse@tntech.edu